

Tea or coffee?

Last week we held a Cuppa & Chat meet up when parents had a chance to sit with a number of Mums & Dads, whose children are already at the school. It was a chance for anyone to ask any nagging questions, completely informal and no holds barred.

Feedback was great and a few people who couldn't join the original meet up asked if we could hold a final one – which we thought was a great idea!

No matter how big or small, if you'd like to ask anything - then do come along.

"Thank you that was really helpful!"

"I've never done this before and was just trying to feel my way. Thanks"

"Can you thank the parents for giving me a full picture of school life"
